

TransferMation

Ance ll Leads and so should you!

According to the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE), 67% of hiring managers are looking for LEADERSHIP skills on prospective employees' resumes.

1 College is a great place to get valuable leadership experience for your resume. Even though you probably won't start out as a CEO somewhere, employers are always looking for people who can lead projects or programs and then work their way up.

12 Opportunities for Leadership in College
Want to take on a leadership role in college? Learn places to challenge yourself and expand your horizons when it comes to college leadership.
ThoughtCo

2

Challenge!

Read the article above, "Opportunities for Leadership in College" and think about one or two leadership experiences, large or small, that you might enjoy.

Maybe you don't have time or desire to be an Resident Assistant (RA), but you could work as a Peer Educator (Tutor), a First Year Mentor, or an Academic Coach. You can also get involved with a club and run for a leadership position.

Add one or two ideas that appeal to your college plan. And then go DO them!

3

I want more!

Some ways you can gain leadership skills at WCSU:

Leadership, Compassion and Creativity Certificate Program
wcsu.edu/leadership

Hancock Student Leadership Program
wcsu.edu/hslp/

Western Research Day wcsu.edu/wrd

